

SHELVES — INDOOR
19 AND 20 TYPES
IDENTIFICATION

1.00 INTRODUCTION

1.01 This section identifies the 19- and 20-type shelves.

2.00 GENERAL

The 19- and 20-type shelves are used to mount coin collectors at public or semipublic telephone stations.

3.00 19-TYPE SHELF

3.01 The 19-type shelf combines a coin-collector mounting, a compartment for a directory, and a wide shelf for writing, placing handbags, etc (Fig. 1).

3.02 The shelves may be placed singly or in groups with the directory compartment forming partitions between adjacent stations, thereby affording some degree of privacy as compared to sets mounted openly on a wall. They are adapted also to corner mountings with the narrow end rather than the directory compartment in the corner.

3.03 A handset-type coin collector is recommended for this type installation.

3.04 The directory compartment accommodates a 2-1/2 inch binder. Two smaller directories also may be enclosed in the binder.

3.05 See Table A for a list of coded 19-type shelves.

4.00 20-TYPE SHELF

4.01 The 20-type shelf combines a coin-collector mounting, directory compartments, shelf for writing, and a hinged plate for mounting subscriber set located under the writing shelf (Fig. 2).

4.02 The 20-type shelf may be used in an inside corner, two shelves may be mounted side-to-side, three shelves may be mounted on an outside corner, or four shelves may be used in a free-standing position. For various arrangements, refer to section entitled Shelves, Indoor, 19 and 20 Types, Installation.

4.03 The 20-type shelf is equipped with a No. 167A-32 backboard for mounting a coin collector.
