

HAND TELEPHONE SETS — 200 SERIES

MAGNETO — CONNECTIONS GENERAL

1.00 INTRODUCTION

This section covers general information for the connection of magneto hand telephone sets.

2.00 GENERAL

2.01 Selection of the proper type of apparatus to be used in combination for a desired service is covered in the section on selection of magneto station sets for general use.

2.02 Specific information for connection along with combinations of apparatus and circuit diagrams is covered in individual sections for each type of hand telephone set.

2.03 The circuit diagrams in these sections may be associated with the circuit diagrams of appropriate hand telephone sets to provide complete information for the connection of station apparatus. Circuit diagrams for the subscriber sets are shown on foldout pages in the sections covering the connections for the specific equipment items.

2.04 Unless the circuit diagram indicates that the hand telephone set must be rewired, it will normally be furnished with connections as shown on the diagram.