Replacing the wireless card on your HP Pavilion dv2000 Laptop.

Written By: Erik Muniz

INTRODUCTION

This guide will help you replace the wireless card on your HP Pavilion dv2000.

TOOLS:

- Phillips #00 Screwdriver (1)
- Tweezers (1)

Step 1 — Wireless Card

⚠ Make sure your computer is powered down and unplugged from the charger before removing any components.

- Locate and unscrew the single 3.8mm screw holding the wireless card casing in place.
- Lift up and remove the wireless card casing.

☞ The 3.8mm screw will remain in the wireless card casing after you unscrew it.

Step 2

- Use a pair of tweezers to remove the three antennas from their sockets.

⚠ Remove the antennas by the contacts connected to the socket, the crimps connecting the wires and the sockets are delicate and are easily damaged.

Step 3

- Remove the two 3.8mm screws holding down the wireless card with your Phillips #00 Screwdriver.
- Gently pull out your wireless card from its top side to remove it from its holding.

To reassemble your device, follow these instructions in reverse order.
