

How To Fix a Broken Bra Hook

Fix a broken hook of a bra by replacing with a new hook.

Written By: Hang

INTRODUCTION

A damaged or broken hook can make an otherwise perfectly fine bra suddenly unwearable. This guide shows how simple and quick this all too common issue can be fixed.

TOOLS:

- Seam Ripper (1)
- Thread (1)
Same color with a bra
- Needle (1)
- Fabric Scissors (1)
- Sewing Pin (1)

PARTS:

- Bra Hook (1)
Same color and shape as original bra

Step 1 — How To Fix a Broken Bra Hook

- Use a seam ripper to rip off the seams on either side of the broken hook and also the edge seam.

ⓘ Make sure to not rip off the seam of other hooks.

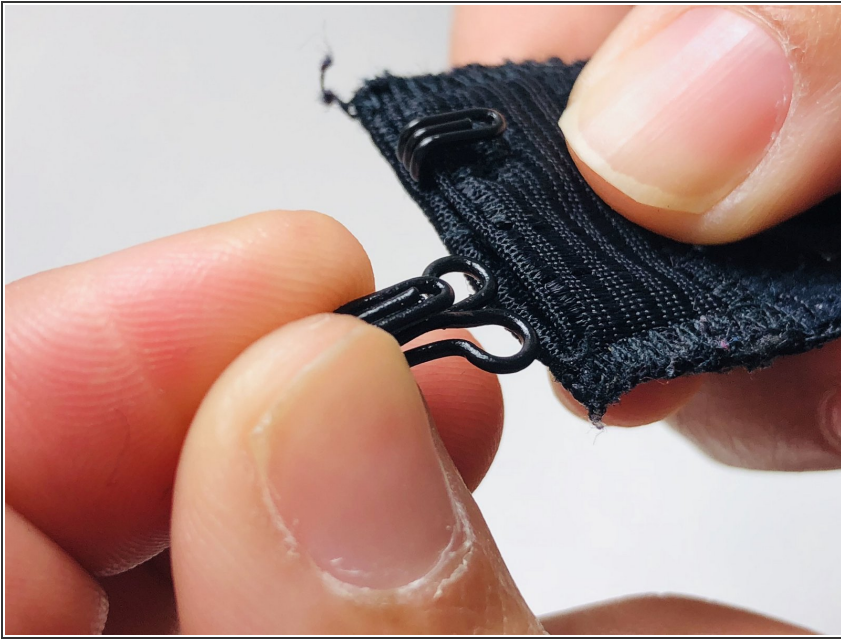

⚠ Point the head of the seam ripper away from you to prevent poking yourself

Step 2

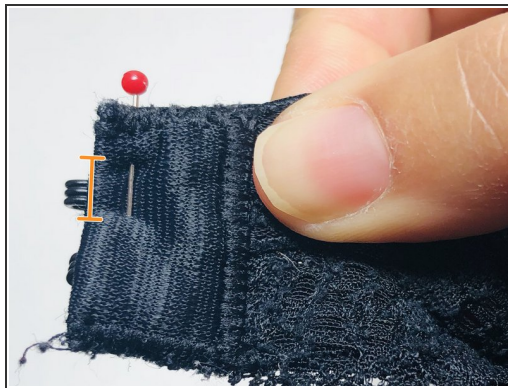

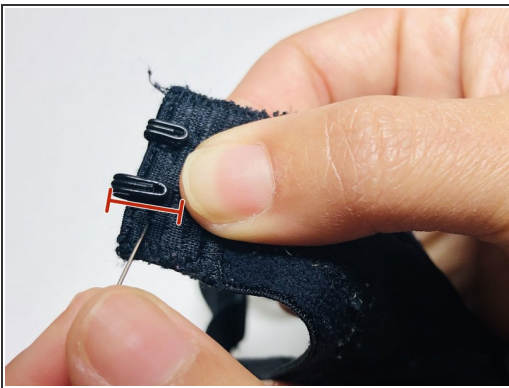

- Remove the broken hook from the strap.
- Pull or cut off the threads that are still attached to the strap.

Step 3

- Insert the new hook into the strap.
- Use fingers to hold the hook in the strap.

Step 4

- Place the tip of the pin next to the new hook.
- ❗ Make sure the pin is placed in the middle of the hook.
- Push the pin until it goes through the strap and reach for back of the pin.
- Point the tip of the pin next to the other side of the hook.
- Push pin again to make it go through to the front of the strap.

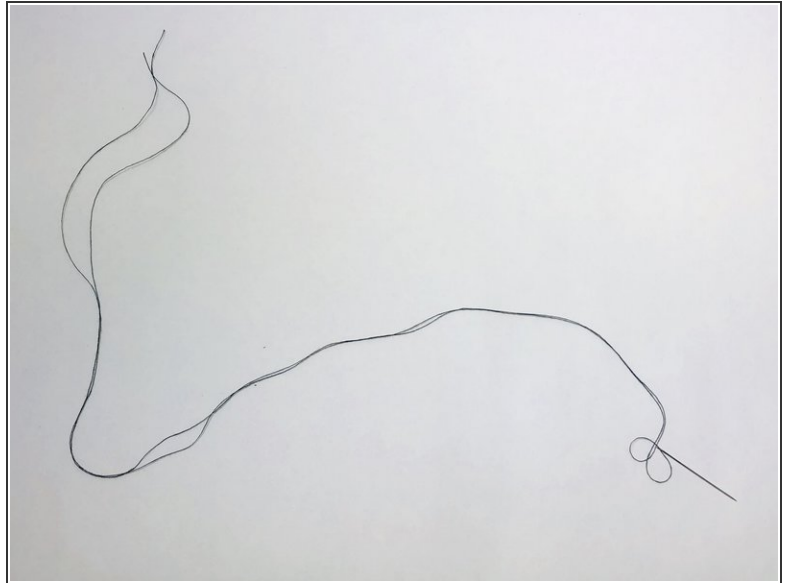

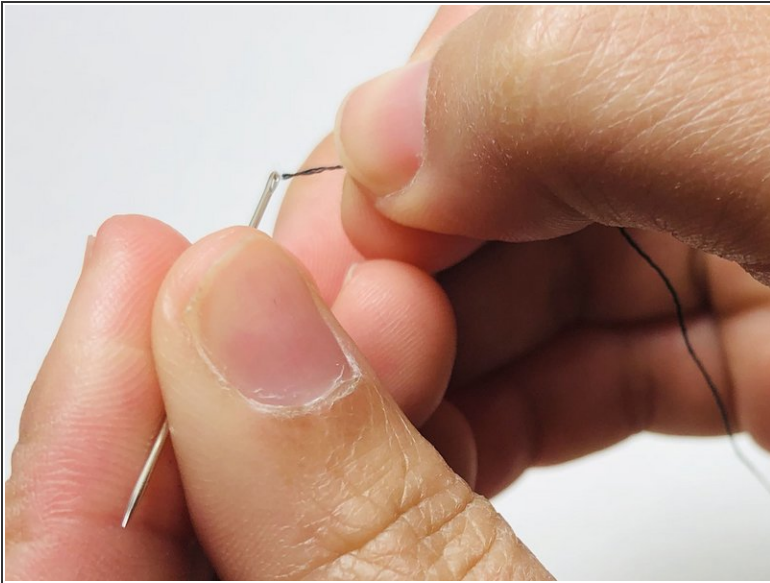

⚠ Push the pin slowly to avoid poking yourself!

Step 5

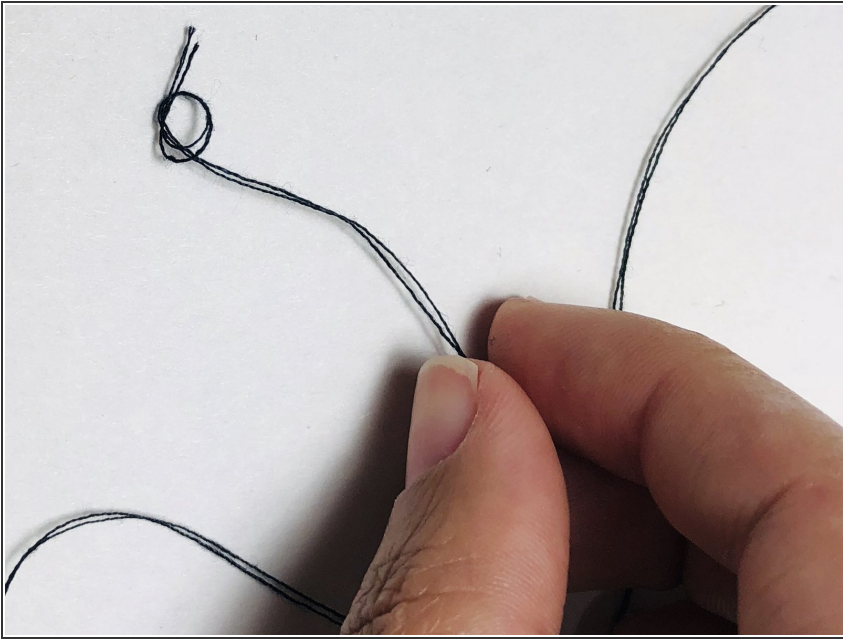

- Put the hooks into the eyes of the bra to make sure hook is placed correctly.

Step 6

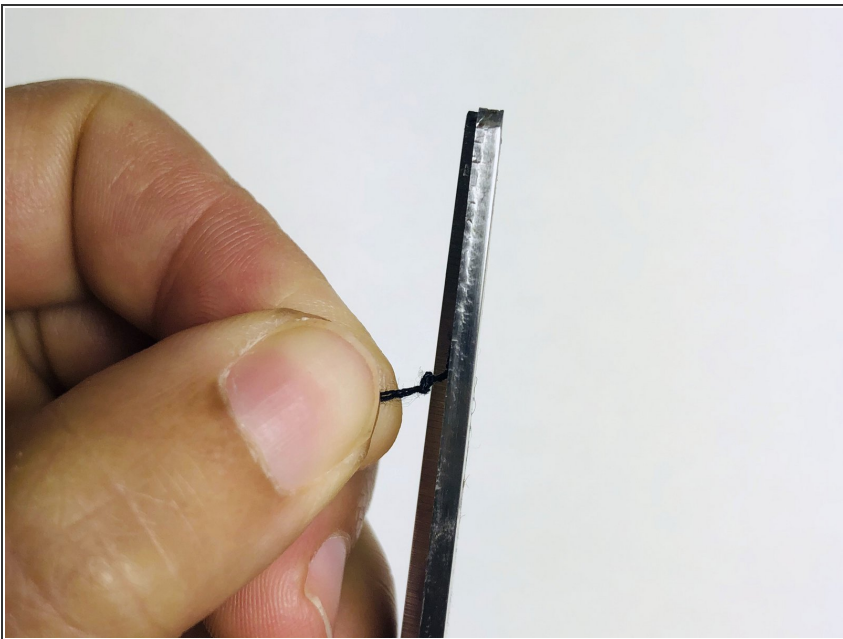

- Thread needle with thread the same color as the bra.
- Pull the thread through to an appropriate length.
 - ⓘ Approx. 10-12 inches.
- Cut the thread.

Step 7

- Tie the thread into a knot at the end of the thread.
- ⓘ Tie two or three times for a thicker knot.

Step 8

- Cut the excess thread off with the scissors.
- ⓘ Do as close as possible to the knot for a clean seam.

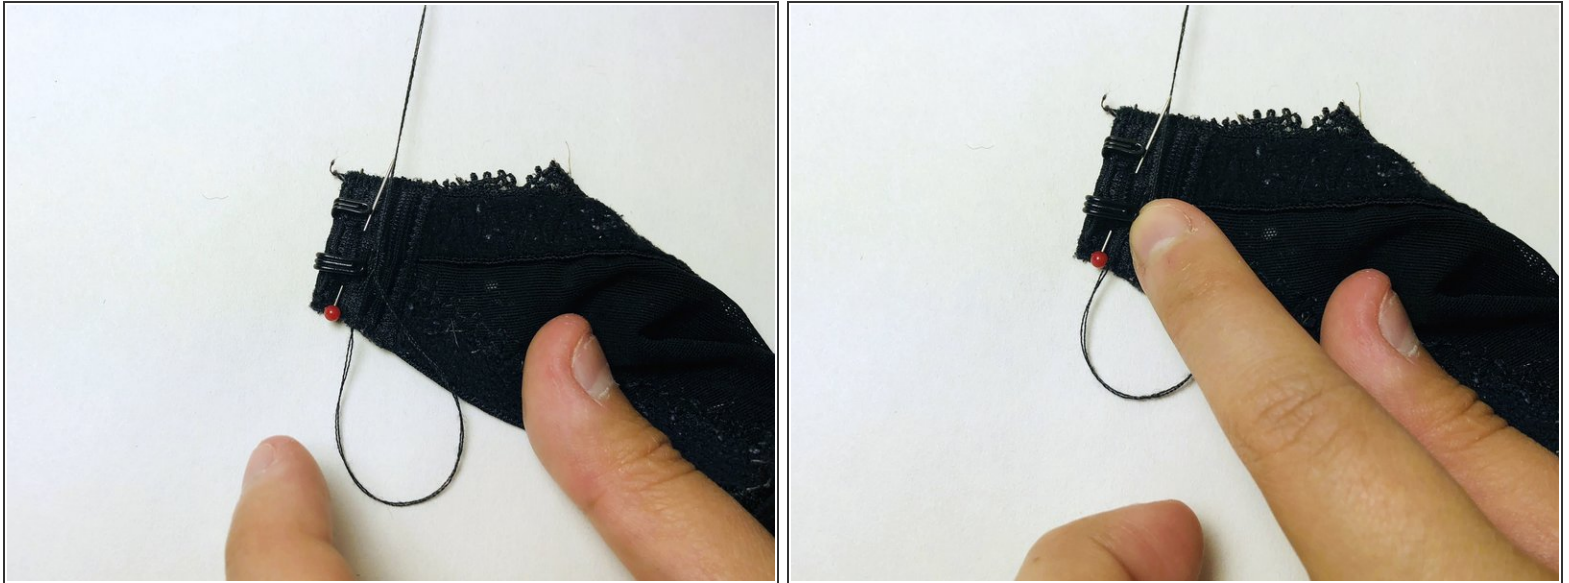

Step 9

- Feel around for one of the two holes at the bottom of the new hook.
 - ⓘ This will not be visible and may take some time to locate.
- Stick the threaded needle through the hole of the hook.
 - Use a backstitch to sew the hook into place.
 - Repeat this for the other hole in the same hook.

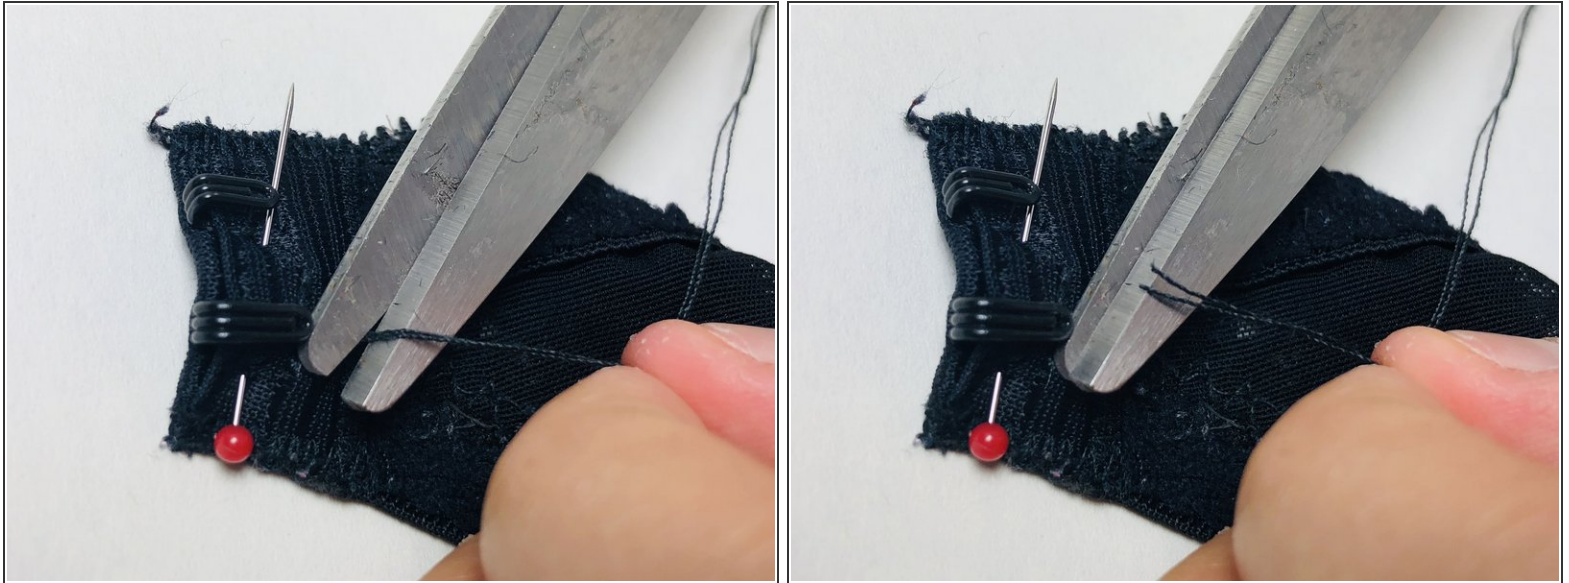

⚠ Always watch out for the tip of the needle while sewing!

Step 10

- Make a large loop with the thread when finished sewing the hook into place.
- Place your finger on the point where you would like the knot to be and pull on the thread.
- ① Knot two or three times.

Step 11

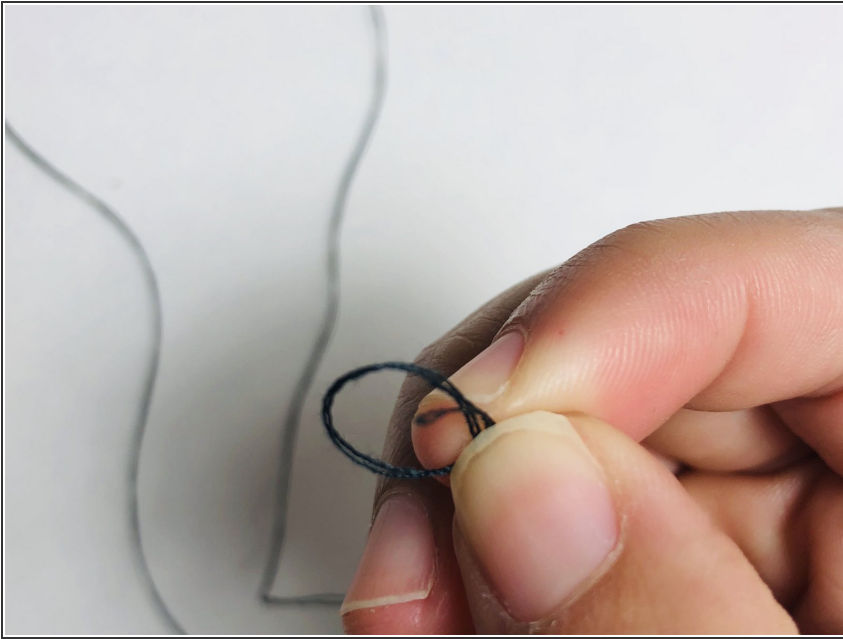

- Cut excess thread off with the scissors.
- ❗ Do this as close as possible to the knot for no loose threads.

Step 12

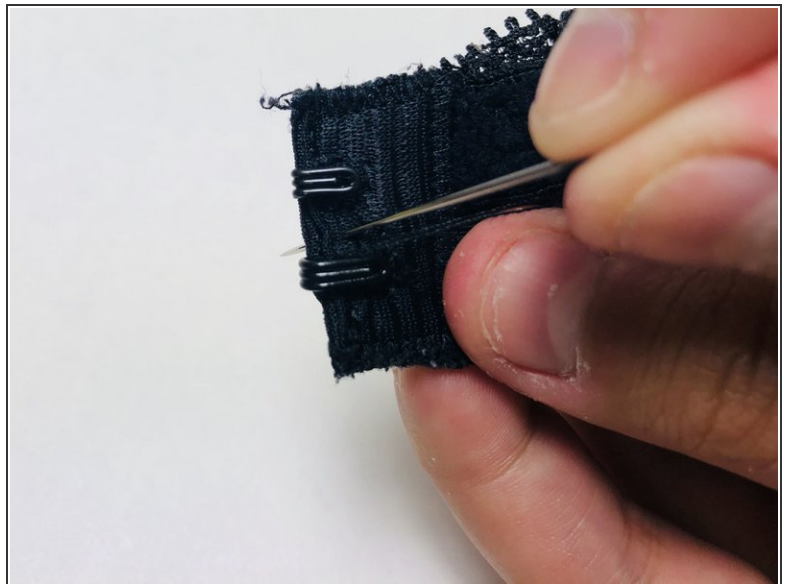

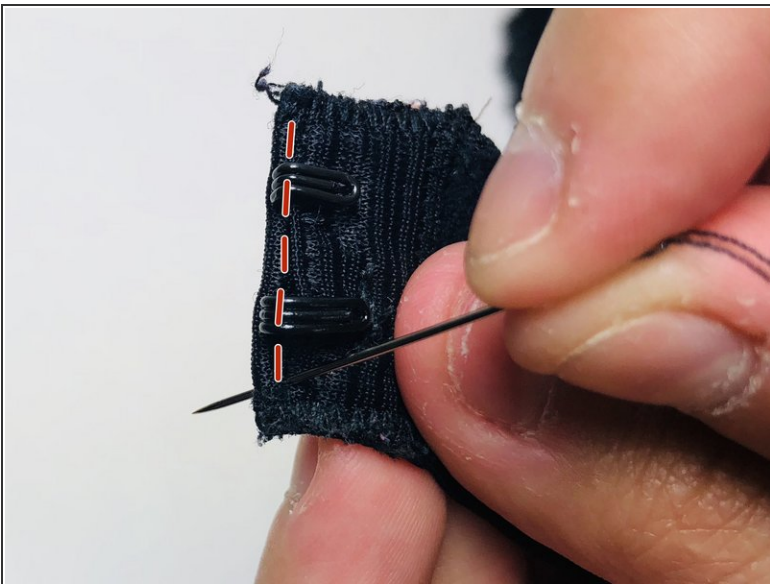

- Remove the pin carefully.

Step 13

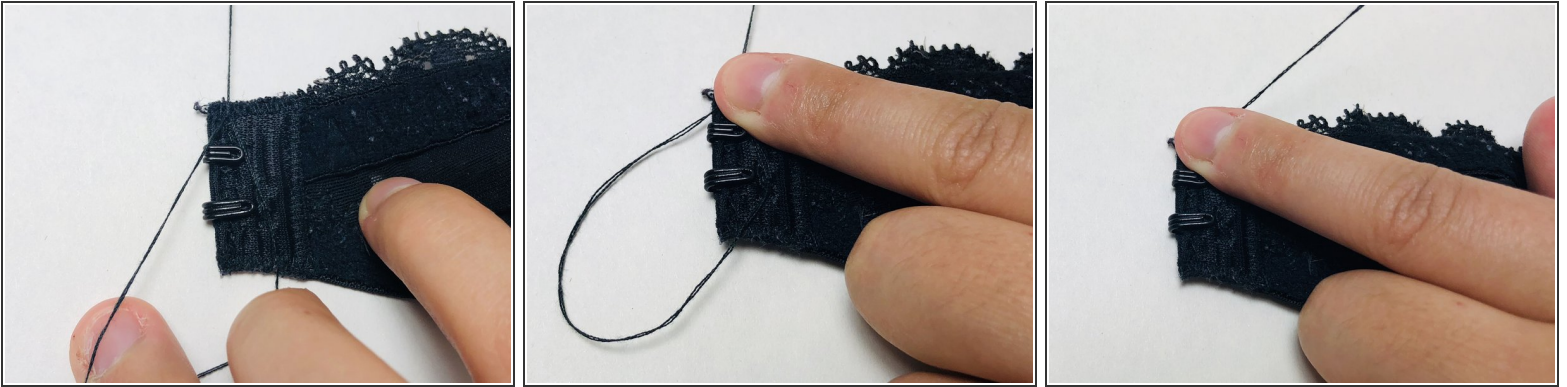

- Tie a knot at the end of the thread.
 - ⓘ Knot two or three times.

Step 14

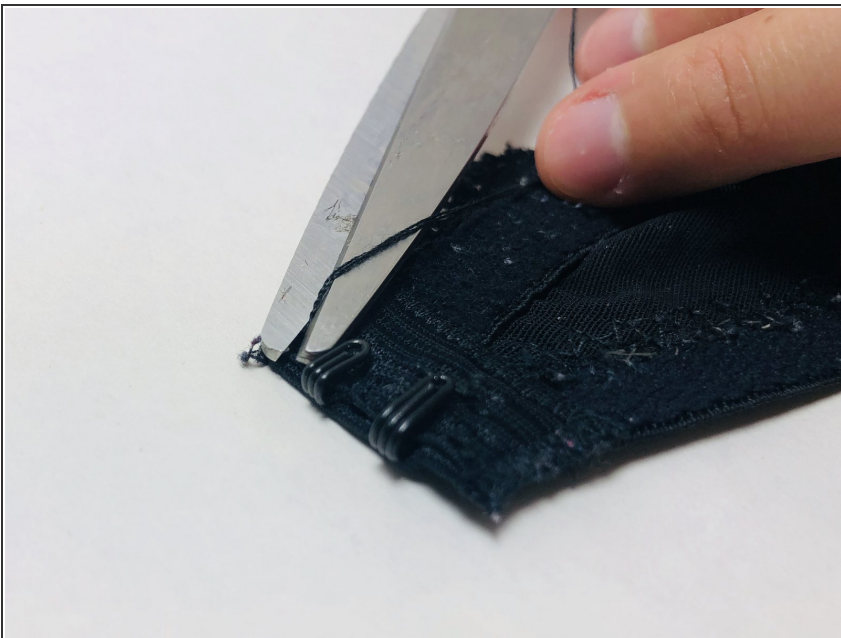

- Hand stitch the edge using a backstitch to close the seam.
 - ⚠ Pay attention to the tip of the needle to avoid poking your fingers!

Step 15

- Tie a knot at the end when you finish closing the seam.
- Hold finger down on the thread to make sure the knot is as close to the bra as possible.
- ① Knot two or three times.

Step 16

- Cut extra thread with the scissors.

Step 17

- Try hook and eye to see if it fits appropriately.

Tada! You saved your bra from an early grave in the dump!