

KNOG ROAD BLINDER 2 LED BIKE HEADLIGHT (200 LUMENS) battery Replacement

simple replacement of knog blinder , with lipo 3.7v 500 mAh battery from tinycircuits.com

Written By: leo mckay

INTRODUCTION

hi if you have a bad battery just remove the aluminum cover by prying it off then undo the torx screws and the light comes apart order the new battery , solder the old plug (from old battery) on to new battery , then screw front on replace aluminum cover and bob is your uncle fresh battery good light , one less landfill problem . the company refuses to provide despite the ease of fix and savings to the world in throwaways.

PARTS:

- https tinycircuits.com collections batteries products lithium-ion-polymer-battery-3-7v-500ma (1)
-

Step 1 — disassemble unit

- easily pulls apart battery connector in middle blue circle keep it you need to swap it for the one on the new battery as it is the correct one

Step 2 — open unit

- battery in back remove and resolder old connector on new battery replace and close

To reassemble your device, follow these instructions in reverse order.